

This Ganesh is a computer technician who comes prepared to remove the obstacle of a poorly performing computer. He carries a mobile phone to stay in touch with customers, uses a telephone to ring back to base, a CD with the necessary software and a computer manual. The computer mouse replaces the rat. No doubt payment represents the rice bowl!

Ganesh - the god who removes obstacles

His trunk removes both large and small obstacles intelligently.

He has large ears to listen.

His stomach is large enough to digest bad and good experiences so that nothing overwhelms or over excites him.

One foot touches the ground representing being in touch with the earth and one foot is raised up meaning meditation.

The rat represents greed, stealing and hoarding but comes to Ganesh for advice. If the rat takes Ganesh's advice and becomes pure and selfless then he can be strong enough to take the weight of an elephant and be his vehicle.

A rice bowl close by Ganesh represents a reward.