Dear Adrian

Thank you for writing. Maybe you're right, and R.F.C. is repetitive, though I thought I'd developed a number of points a bit further. And you may be right in saying that on the practical side the left wing of the Reformation anticipated what little I have to say, though I thought I'd stressed the dispersal of power, and art, more strongly. Anyway, there it is — and, as you have read, the last for a bit. See you...
